

Business & Commercial Litigation

Finch, Thornton & Baird, LLP represents a wide variety of businesses for their litigation needs through trial and appeal. This includes national and local distributors and manufacturers, international insurance companies, venture capitalists, vehicle dealerships, clothing makers and retailers, book sellers, developers, and laboratories — as well as construction companies and defense contractors.

GETTING CLIENTS OUT OF TROUBLE. AND HELPING THEM AVOID IT.

Even the best-managed and well-intentioned businesses will likely encounter a legal problem eventually. When trouble does come knocking, you want the right resources to handle the situation decisively, efficiently, and effectively. The tenacious attorneys at Finch, Thornton & Baird have proven themselves in state and federal courts, and in virtually all alternative dispute resolution forums. As important as our ability to get clients out of trouble, however, is our ability to help them avoid it. In fact, our long history of successful courtroom litigation experience is exactly why Finch, Thornton & Baird is so well prepared to create the strongest possible legal protections and business agreements up front.

SOMETIMES THE SITUATION CALLS FOR MORE THAN A SMART LAWYER.

While legal services are the cornerstone of our practice, today's rapidly changing business environment often requires the insights of a smart business person, too. Someone to help analyze risk and opportunity. Someone who sees the bigger picture. Someone who can connect the impact of legal issues to difficult, real-life business issues. Which is why it should come as no surprise that Finch, Thornton & Baird clients recently ranked our ability to deliver experienced business acumen second only to the consistent legal results we achieve.
